State Specialists To Study Sparta

The number of instructors needed by SJS if the State Legislature grants SJS the requested funds to handle 7400 full-time equivalent students is under investigation today by Dr. James B. Enochs, specialist in State College Curricula, sent here to review SJS staff requests.

Five Men Join Gams Contest Entrant's List

Five more men have entered the Gorgeous Gams contest sponsored by the Freshman Class, Betty Easton, Frosh Fund Raising committee chairman, announced yesterday.

Pictures of the contestants legs will be posted on the bulletin board by the Coop. Monday, Nov. 29, she said.

Miss Easton also emphasized that today is the deadline for sponsoring fraternities, sororities, living groups and other organizations to enter their candidates.

The five new entrants are: Jim Kane, sponsored by the California Recreation Society; Jerry Long, sponsored by Chi Omega sorority; Rick Sherman, sponsored by Alpha Tau Omega; George Silva, sponsored by Catholic Women's Center; and George Watts, sponsored by Marimur Hall.

Other contestants are Pete Bricker, Dan Douglas, Don Hubbard and Carl "Fluff" Tilton.

No Rally Meeting Tonight: Holiday

The Rally committee will not hold a meeting tonight because of the Thanksgiving holiday, according to Shunji Ito, Rally committee chairman.

It stressed that, although there will be no meeting, the Executive Council of the Rally committee will meet at 3:30 p. m. in the Student Union.

Commenting on the New Mexico game Saturday afternoon, Ito said that there will be no card stunts for the game, but there will be an all-white rooting section and the yell leaders and song girls will be present.

He said the Fremont High School Band would represent SJS at the game. Both Fremont and Campbell High School bands will march during halftime. The AF-ROTC drill team will also perform.

Bill Hubbard, director of athletics, announced that 4700 Boy Scouts from the Santa Clara Valley have been invited to the game as guests of SJS.

In addition to the game activities, Ito also noted that tryouts for yell leaders will be held in the Morris Dailey Auditorium Dec. 8.

Poll Shows Solons Concerned At College Crowding Problem

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23 (UP)—Members of the State Legislature agreed today that state colleges, university student fees, highway funds and driver legislation will be major problems when the 1955 session starts next January.

Of pressing concern will be the needs of California's 11 overcrowded state colleges, most of which presently are on double sessions from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Members of both houses of the Legislature, in a special poll conducted by United Press, agreed by an overwhelming four-to-one margin they will favor a bond issue of from 20 to 250 million dollars to expand the existing state colleges and possibly build new ones.

But on another controversial revenue-producing issue, a proposal to increase fees at the University of California to help offset a budget which is nearing the 100 million dollar mark, Legislators were cooler.

The 7400 FTE, if approved, will mean an increase of 80 instructors, President John T. Wahlquist told the Spartan Daily yesterday.

President Wahlquist pointed out, however, that if Attorney General Edmund G. Brown's decision released several weeks ago is valid, the state will be forced to re-evaluate the SJS staffing needs on the basis of 8777, which will mean approximately 50 more instructors above the 80 requested for 7400.

Dr. Enochs, a representative of the state department of education, pays each state college an annual visit to consider state college staffing needs.

Seniors To Eat, But Not Dance

Graduates this December will not be able to dance as well as dine at their banquet, but March graduates still have a chance.

Senior Class President Pat Spooner has announced that plans for a dinner-dance will be tabled because of the lack of sufficient time and organization to put them into operation in December.

Reservations for the banquet, to be held at Mariani's restaurant in Santa Clara, are available in the Graduate Manager's Office.

Cottrell Reveals Date, Theme For Winter Quarter's Formal

Wintermist, the winter quarter ball, will be held Feb. 25, in the Civic auditorium from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m., Jim Cottrell, Social Affairs chairman has announced.

The theme for the dance will be the winter season, Cottrell noted. He said that work on the ball would begin when the Social Affairs committee meets Dec. 2.

The band is expected to be named within a week, Cottrell stressed.

Fairness Board Plans Procedure

A general plan of procedure for students charged with being dishonest was discussed by the Fairness committee yesterday at an afternoon meeting.

Dr. Raymond Mosher, chairman of the group, said that the plan is being prepared to give the accused the opportunity to present a proper defense. After some debate, the final decision was tabled until the next meeting.

The committee will take up the matter at its next meeting scheduled for Dec. 10.

Hubbard Grabs Turkey

IT'S GETTING TO BE A HABIT—Don Hubbard wins the Turkey Trot trophy for the second time. Presenting the cup is Herb Hylbert, Alpha O. Besides the trophy, Hubbard won a turkey and a kiss from the Homecoming Queen, "Who could get tired of kissing beautiful girls," Hubbard chuckled as he claimed his prize yesterday. He's kissed two Homecoming Queens in a row—and is only a junior. It has been suggested that the "kiss from Hubbard" be an added incentive for queen candidates.—photo by Kerr.

Kason Announces Times For Revelries Auditions

Auditions for the cast of "In All My Dreams," the 1955 Revelries production, will be held next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, in Morris Dailey, Jim Kason, the show's producer-director, announced yesterday.

There are 15 acting parts, 12 singing-dancing chorus parts and several walk-on parts to be cast for the show he said.

"All students who would like to be in the show must come to the audition on Wednesday, Dec. 1 beginning at 3:30 p. m. for instructions," Kason emphasized.

After instructions are given, the try-outs for acting parts will begin. Readings for these parts will be taken from the show script and hopefuls are not to bring their own selections, he explained.

Singers will audition Thursday. Those auditioning for singing parts may bring a song number if they wish, however music and accompaniment will be available, he assured.

There are six girls and six men in the singing-dancing chorus, but Kason stressed that the producers may include an additional singing chorus in the show if enough talent is available.

Dancers will perform on Friday. Auditions will last from 3:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. each day in the auditorium.

"The total number in the cast will depend on how many talented students turn out for auditions," Kason explained.

The show's plot is about a husband and wife team in show business.

Turkey Day Here! Finals Approach!

The squirrels will be lonely tomorrow... all of the nuts have gone home.

Tomorrow's the day the bird loses his head and SJS students loosen their belts as part of the Thanksgiving Day festivities.

And by the way, Thanksgiving Day, that's the 24 hour quiescence period between midterms, the 17 days before finals, and the 20 days before the quarter ends, for the statistical minded.

Breaks Own Time Record in Annual Turkey Trot Run

Chopping a second and eight-tenths off his old course record, Don Hubbard won yesterday's eleventh annual Alpha Phi Omega Turkey Trot in five minutes and 40 seconds.

Sigma Chi copped top honors among 12 fraternities by winning the shuttle relay in five minutes and 28 seconds ahead of Delta Upsilon and Kappa Alpha.

Hubbard won a trophy, a live turkey, and a victory kiss from Homecoming Queen Joan Dalton for his efforts in the three-mile grind. Runner-up Welvin Stroud won a live duck, while Don Barry was presented a live chicken as third place award.

Walter Swarthout finished first among the novice distance men to win a trophy, while Elwood Perkins came in last among a field of 21 runners to win the consolation prize, a dozen eggs.

Students May Cast Election Issue Ballots

SJS students may be called to the polls Dec. 3 to vote on a constitutional amendment which will clarify the class membership clause.

The proposed amendment would stipulate specifically who is eligible to run for class offices. The Student Council must approve the clause by a two-thirds vote today if the issue is to be on the ballot, Stan Croonquist, chief justice, said.

Dec. 3 also is the date of the freshman elections.

The amendment which was recommended by the Student Court will require that a person attend three consecutive meetings during one quarter to establish class membership. Then he must attend any three meetings during the succeeding quarters to keep his status alive.

A rider to accompany the amendment suggested by the council requires a person to be a member of the class of which he is seeking office. "This rider refers to junior college transfers. It prevents them from running for a class office before they are acquainted with SJS and its student government," Croonquist commented.

Greeks To Show Scripts to Deans

Scripts for the 1954 version of the All Greek Show must be submitted to the Executive Deans committee by the second week of winter quarter, according to Terry Taugner, member of Theta Chi, the sponsoring fraternity.

Taugner told the representatives of the fraternities and sororities last night at a meeting at the Theta Chi house that skits for the Jan. 27th production must be limited to four minutes. Greek organizations may not present movies this year, Taugner said.

Library To Close For Thanksgiving

The Library will be closed tomorrow, Thanksgiving, but will be open Friday and Saturday, according to Miss Joyce Backus, college librarian.

The Library will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on these two days. The Reserve Book Room will be closed for studying Friday.

At a meeting Tuesday, Freeman made appointments for the coming camp which will be held Jan. 29 and 30. Appointments include Trish Meyers, personnel; Doris Mortara, publicity; Teddy Gehr, program; Jim Cottrell, finance; and Jim Blackwell, recreation.

No Regard

Dear T and P,

It seems to me that the school administration has been running along with no regard for the students as of late. The talk of raising the requirements for one thing. Why?

This school has been putting out good graduates with the present requirements—why change? To me, the excuse of crowded conditions is no reason to raise requirements. I think the best way to limit enrollment would be first come, first served.

announce that we have a week less summer vacation, again—why? Granted that it takes a certain amount of class time to teach a subject, but I don't see why it should be cut at the expense of the student. Why not cut out the break between semesters?

We will have just finished Christmas vacation. To speak for myself, I am a G. I. and I need every working day available during the summer. A week's cut is not to be taken lightly. Other schools seem to be able to allow their students a three months summer vacation, sometimes more. Why not San Jose State?

The California Student Teacher Association's Membership Drive will be launched Monday morning at 9 o'clock in front of Morris Dailey auditorium, according to Chuck Bailey, vice president.

The drive, which will last through Wednesday, is to interest all education majors in joining the organization. Special secondary students, as well as K. P. and G.E. majors, are urged to join this branch of the California Teachers Association.

It is not necessary to be doing your student teaching, Bailey said, the only requirement is interest in the teaching profession.

Local dues for CSTA membership are $1.50, and national dues, $2.50. The national dues also entitle the member to a year's subscription to the CTA Journal.

The booth will remain open until 4:30 p. m.

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "Barefoot Boy With Cheek," etc.)

I WAS AWARDED A RIBBON AND PROMPTLY PUT IT IN MY TYPEWRITER

First of all—how come?
How do I come to be writing a column for Philip Morris in your campus newspaper?

I'll tell you how come:
It all began on a summer night. The air was warm, the sky was full of stars, and I sat in a cane-bottomed chair on my verandah, peaceful and serene, smoking a cigarette, humming the largo from Death and Transfiguration, and warming my dog.

Into this idyllic scene came a stranger—a tall, clean limbed stranger, crinkly-eyed and crooked-grinned, loose and lank. "How do you do," he said. "My name is Loose Lank and I am with the Philip Morris people."

"Enchanted," I said. "Take off your homburg and sit down." I clapped my hands. "Charles!" I called. "Another chair for Mr. Lank."

Obediently my dog trotted away and returned directly with a fan-back chair of Malayan rattan. He is the smartest dog in our block. "I'm sorry I don't have a Morris chair," I said to Mr. Lank. "That would be rather more appropriate—you being with Philip Morris and all."

Well, sir, we had many a laugh and cheer over my little witticism. When we had finished laughing and cheering, we wiped our eyes and Mr. Lank pulled out a fresh package of Philip Morris. He yanked the tape and the pack sprang open with a fetching little snap.

"Did you hear that fetching little snap?" asked Mr. Lank.

"Yes," I said, for I did.

"Cigarette?" he said.

"Thank you," I said.

We puffed contentedly for three or four hours. Then Mr. Lank said, "I suppose you're wondering why I'm here."

"Well," I replied, my old eyes twinkling, "I'll wager you didn't come to read my meter."

You can imagine how we howled at that one!

"That's a doozy!" cried Mr. Lank, giggling wildly. "I must remember to tell it to Alice when I get home."

"Your wife?" I said.

"My father," he said.

"Oh," I said.

"Well," he said, "let's get down to business... How would you like to write a campus column for Philip Morris?"

"For money?" I said.

"Yes," he said.

"My hand, sir," I said and clasped his. Warmly he returned the pressure, and soft smiles played on our lips, and our eyes were bright with the hint of tears, and we were silent, not trusting ourselves to speak.

"Cigarette?" he said at length.

I nodded.

We lit up and puffed contentedly for eight or ten hours. "I understand you've made quite a study of college students," said Mr. Lank.

"Yes," I said, blushing modestly. "I have been collecting them for years. I have over four thousand students in my basement right now."

"In mint condition?" he said incredulously.

"Students don't come in mint condition," I explained. "They go to great expense to acquire the 'beat-up look.'"

"How interesting," he said. "Tell me something more about them—their feeding habits, for example."

"They are omnivores of prodigious appetite," I said. "It is wise not to leave food about when they are present. Their favorite food is a dish called the Varsity Gasser—one scoop raspberry ice, one scoop raw hamburger, leech nuts and maple syrup."

"Fascinating," said Mr. Lank. "And what are students interested in chiefly?"

"Each other," I replied. "Boy students are interested in girl students, and girl students are interested in boy students."

"This seems to me an admirable arrangement," said Mr. Lank. "But is it true even in these parlous days of worldwide tension and dreadful armaments?"

"It is always true," I said. "It isn't that college students don't know what's going on in the world. They know all too well. They're perfectly aware of the number of lumps waiting for them... But meanwhile the limbs are springy and the juices run strong and time is fleeting."

"What will you write about in your column?" asked Mr. Lank.

"About boys and girls," I said. "About fraternities and sororities and dormitories and boarding houses and dances and sleighrides and hayrides and cutting classes and going to classes and cramming for exams and campus politics and the profits of bookstores and convertibles and BMOCs and BWOCs and professors who write new texts every year and the world's slowest humans—the page boys at the library."

"And will you say a pleasant word about Philip Morris from time to time?" asked Mr. Lank.

"Sir," I replied, "I can think of no other kind of word to say about Philip Morris."

We shook hands again then, and smiled bravely. Then he was gone—a tall silhouette moving erectly into the setting sun. "Farewell, good tobaccoist!" I cried after him. "Aloha, aloha!"

And turned with a will to my typewriter.

SJS Campus Chess Club Revives Spartan Students' Interest in the Game

By JANINE LaFEHR

Almost any time you walk into the Student Union you can find students gathered around a table, engaged in a game called chess.

These students, members of the campus chess club, meet almost daily to compete with other chess enthusiasts. They are usually playing a type of the game which Jim Faletti, president of the organization, terms "Skittles," which is played just for fun.

The Chess Club, which was revived by Faletti and other followers of the game last quarter, meets every Thursday afternoon in the Student Union at 3:30 o'clock.

The club teaches new members the game and different variations of chess. Some play "Kriegspiel," in which two players sit back to back and use three chess boards. The referee tells the players when they can move and, in general, keeps the game under control. It is possible to win a game of this sort, according to Faletti, but it is due more to luck than to skill.

At the present time, there are about 20 members in the club, and other students are welcome, Faletti said, as the club plans to compete in other tournaments.

"Although we play for blood in tournament games," Faletti said, "novice players are also essential in the club."

All students who are interested in playing chess may attend the weekly meetings or contact Faletti or other officers of the club in the Student Union. The officers include Bob Fuchigami, secretary-treasurer; Glenn McClung, publicity chairman; and Walt Shugert, tournament director.

WHAT DID IT COST TO CREATE YOUR JOB?

If you're an average U.S. factory worker—$12,000.

If you're a rough carpenter, it took approximately $350 worth of tools to set you up in your trade.

Tools for a garage mechanic cost about $3,000; for a Washington wheat farmer $12,500; for a secretary $300.

But if you work for Union Oil, it took $77,000 worth of tools in the form of trucks, service stations, refineries, oil wells, etc., to create your job.* Obviously, some of our jobs require considerably less investment than $77,000 and some considerably more. But this is the average for Union's more than 9,000 employees.

That's big money. But it accomplishes big things.

It brings Union's customers better products at lower costs. It enables each employee to produce more and therefore earn more. It creates better jobs and a higher standard of living.

Even this figure does not include the "tools" Union rents for its employees, such as office space, tankers, telephone service, etc.*

He said he could not conceive that a meeting of heads of state would be worthwhile to begin with. He said it would be necessary to have talks on the diplomatic level first, and that he did not know what thereafter might follow.

The President said that until the new accords on Western Germany are put into effect we will not agree to such a conference. And, he continued, there should be some promise of real fruitfulness for talks with the East.

Thirdly, there must be a proper time for thorough preparation for an East-West conference. The President said there is no virtue in going into any quick conference for the purpose of promoting propaganda.

Eisenhower nevertheless repeated his long-held position that whenever this government has any reason to believe that anyone really wants to talk about peace, it will talk, too.

Asked what kind of evidence the United States would want about Communist intentions, the President said an Austrian peace treaty would be a mark of real sincerity that would permit further progress toward negotiations on other matters.

Wars, Turbulence in Asia Will Continue for Months

By GERALD OLSEN

Wars and turbulence in Asia will dominate the headlines in the months ahead with increasing frequency, Frank H. Bartholomew, in charge of United Press news coverage in the Pacific Area, told the national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, recently.

"Moscow has seen to it that there are too many fingers on too many triggers for any real probability of peace in the Orient," Bartholomew, also first vice-president of UP, said.

He noted that nothing would contain militant Communism and maintain the peace but strength on our part. Bartholomew said that this means a firm policy by the United States so clearly enunciated that it cannot be twisted or misunderstood.

Bartholomew said that now there are four danger spots in Asia. They are Northern Japan, Korea, Formosa and Indo-China. He stressed that Indo-China is the most dangerous and could break out into war again because it is the richest area.

Bartholomew, who last month was awarded the Texas journalistic medal for "12 years of hazardous and brilliant reporting of the wars of the Pacific," urged the younger generation to interest itself in Asia and to approach the subject with an open mind.

He said, "The Asians have shaken off the bonds of colonialism and are making great and admirable strides toward freedom and independence."

Touching on the Communist dictatorship in China, Bartholomew said, "We must deal with this Communist dictatorship with strength or get out of the Orient. To leave the Orient is unthinkable because Communism would follow us backward across the Pacific in any retreat."

Bartholomew concluded with the statement, "The best chance for peace in Asia is for the U.S. to give all-out aid to our friends and uncompromising resistance to our enemies."

Mendes-France's Optimistic Attitude

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (UP)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France said today the London and Paris agreements formed the basis for a historic step toward true western European union.

"The western European union which we agreed to establish is more than merely a military arrangement or a device permitting a German military contribution," he said.

UN Group Approves Atom Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 23 (UP)—The United Nations Main Political committee voted unanimously today for President Eisenhower's "atoms-for-peace" program.

Russia joined the Western powers in the unanimous vote for a resolution setting up the plan, after the committee had voted down two Soviet amendments.

Arkady Sobolev, deputy chief of the Soviet delegation, took the chair of Andrei Y. Vishinsky whose sudden death yesterday cut short his strenuous efforts to force the Kremlin's views on the committee.

Russia and her satellites abstained on two sections against which Vishinsky had argued vigorously during the three-week committee debate on the item.

The Dorothy Kaucher award, presented quarterly by the Speech and Drama Department for excellence in oral interpretation, will be given Tuesday afternoon in the Studio Theater.

Five students from the oral interpretation classes of Dr. Lawrence H. Mount, Mrs. Courtney Brooks, Alden H. Smith, and Mrs. Norren Mitchell, will compete for the $25 award.

The winner will be chosen by a panel of judges from the English Department: Dr. Raymond Barry, Dr. Josephine Chandler, and Dr. Harold Miller, Dr. Hugh W. Gillis, head of the Speech and Drama Department, will present the award.

Fund for the award was begun in 1952 with an anonymous donation. Proceeds from a show by the Speech and Drama faculty last year enabled the award to be continued.

Patricia Branch, winner of the award last spring, is student chairman for the program.

Three SJS Grads Participate In Victor Herbert Light Opera

Three San Jose State graduates are taking part in the production of Victor Herbert's "Fortune Teller", which the San Jose Light Opera Company is presenting Friday and Saturday nights at University of Santa Clara theater.

Joe Juliano, former SJS Alumni Director, is directing the musical show. While on campus, Juliano wrote and produced "Up Powell" for Spartan Revelries. He was the first Alumni to have full-time status, holding this position during 1950-52.

Rosiland Rogers, 1952 graduate of the Music Department, will make her debut with the Light Opera Company in one of the leading roles.

While a student here, Miss Rogers was solist with both the choral ensemble and a capella choir. With the latter group in 1951 she made a commercial recording of Saint-Saens Christmas oratorio.

Alvin Johnson, another SJS alumnae, is designing the sets for the show.

Tickets for the musical may be obtained at Sherman Clay box office. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

High School Bands Perform Saturday

Fremont and Campbell Union high school bands will perform at half-time during the New Mexico-SJS game Saturday, according to Dr. Robert Fiester, director of the SJS marching band.

The Fremont band will sit on the San Jose side, while the Campbell group will be seated in the opposite stands. The Campbell band, directed by SJS graduate Richard Gordon, numbers about 50, and the Fremont band has about 75 members, Dr. Fiester said.

Douglas Harville, another SJS alumnus, directs the latter musical group.

An AFROTC drill team, directed by Maj. William Wetsel, will perform at half-time. Special guests at the game will be some 4000 area Boy Scouts.

Girls, are you over-weight?
If you are on a diet don't read the following article.

Tomorrow is Turkey Day. All over the nation girls of your proportions will look at the steaming bird, potatoes—two kinds, mashed and sweet—and pie out the ging-gang, and turn away, but then a certain percentage of them will turn weak and gorge themselves.

Fowl Character Bludgeoned by Scorned Lover

By JAKE Da BOOM

Once upon a time in the Priscilla ridden days of Miles Standish and John Alden, when all was not tranquil within the household of the Captain of Plymouth, and before John Alden ever thought of speaking for anybody else, there lived in old Plymouth, a particularly elegant and extremely portly gentleman turkey named Herman.

Now Herman had, somewhere in his genealogical background, a parrot, and as a result, had as good command of the English language as could be expected of anyone not having taken Communications 121, 122, 123.

Anyway, Herman had stuck his neck out on the Mayflower on the way over from merry olde England by reciting in meeting one Sunday:

Miles Standish, the Puritan captain,
Our soldier so valiant and bold
Got every darn notch in his cuff
Killing cockroaches down in the hold.

The redoubtable Standish took somewhat of an adverse view of this bit of information and began a campaign to separate poor Herman's thoughts and actions. That is to say, he wanted to separate his head from the rest of his body.

Herman (to keep body and soul together) however, received the everlasting friendship of Standish's bosom buddy, John Alden, by acting as carrier pigeon between John and a girl named Priscilla Kissenkabage on the top deck forward. So John in order to save his two-way stool pigeon must need guard Herman's life with his own.

When the Pilgrims at last landed at Plymouth, Standish and Alden built a neat little cottage some distance from the one built by old man Kissenkabage.

All went happily until one day Miles said to John, "John," he says, "why don't you just trot over to Prissy's house and ask her if she won't marry up with me?" So John stuck the goose quill pen he'd been writing with back in the goose and went his way over to Prissy's house, but with very little intention of pleading Miles' case to her.

Now, while John is over at Prissy's house, double-crossing Miles, Miles runs out in the back yard and lets Herman have it with a load of old brass candlesticks.

In the meantime John Alden returns with the news that Priscilla has run off with a used pewterware salesman from Lower Cape Cod.

Since he no longer needs him, he shows little remorse at the passing of Herman. Indeed, since both boys were now rid of all their troubles, they decided to celebrate by roasting Herman for dinner.

Such has the custom continued in rejoicing in your good fortune and as Miles Standish said as he slugged off one of Herman's drumsticks, "Serve yourself if you will be served."

Alpha Phi O May Discontinue Tending the Annual Bonfire

Again this year, as nearly every year, SJS's Homecoming bonfire, constructed by Alpha Phi Omega fraternity, was burned to the ground before rally time.

Because of this, A Phi O may not build it again next year, according to Chuck Bailey, former A Phi O president.

"Our fraternity has talked it over," Bailey states, "and we have decided that next year we may not handle the bonfire. We don't feel we can do it adequately unless we get more cooperation from other organizations."

"We did the best we could this year," he says. "But there just wasn't enough of us there Friday afternoon to stop them. (Supposedly Santa Clara students did the burning). Thursday night we were raided by at least 150 students but with the help of the Police department and a few paddy wagons we managed to drive them off."

"Then about 5:30 Friday in the afternoon," he continued "they hit us again. This time they picked an opportune moment when there were only seven men guarding the fire. There were three carloads in this bunch and it wasn't long before they had applied the gasoline and match."

"It was the loss of time and effort that hurt," Bailey says, "and on top of it all—the oranges that Kappa Phi brought down for our midnight patrol had to be used to ward off our would-be assailants. We didn't even get those out of the deal!"

DU, Theta Chi Win Loop Grid Games

In today's intramural football action, Lambda Chi Alpha will meet Sigma Pi in an American League game at Roosevelt Field and Sigma Alpha Epsilon will oppose Phi Sigma Kappa in a National loop tilt at Willow Street Park.

Newman Club is scheduled to face Fernando's Hideaway in an independent game at Columbus Field. All three games are slated for 4 p.m.

Theta Chi's intramural gridders picked up their second American League victory Monday with a 12-7 win over Pi Kappa Alpha at Roosevelt Field.

Methodist Sorority's Show Honors Miss Doris Robinson

Kappa Phi, the Methodist girls' sorority, honored Miss Doris Robinson, adviser of the local chapter since 1948, at a luncheon recently.

The affair, attended by Kappa Phi members and their mothers, was organized along the line of the TV program, "This is Your Life." The 80 girls who are members of the local chapter wrote the script and contacted many of Miss Robinson's friends so that they might be on hand to take part in the telling of the story of Miss Robinson's life.

Friends, concealed in another room, spoke to the honored guest over a microphone and Miss Robinson had to "identify that voice."

"They didn't dig up all my life history, thank goodness," Miss Robinson announced, laughingly.

The group presented her with a wrist watch, a dozen roses and a bud vase as well as a scrap book of pictures and letters which had played a part in Miss Robinson's life.

The celebration of the pinning was held at the home of Ben Zietman in Redwood City.

Miss Anderson was presented with a cake which had been decorated with the fraternity crest.

Both Bailey and Miss Anderson will graduate in June.

The members of Delta Upsilon held a buffet dinner before the Fresno game Friday, according to John Luckhardt, publicity chairman for the fraternity.

The dinner was attended by actives, dates and parents, Luckhardt said. It was sponsored by the Mothers Club.

Following the game members and their dates held a victory dance at the fraternity house.

Two DUs announced their pinning recently, Luckhardt stated. John Freitas, senior business administration major announced his pinning to Valerie Rosenkrantz, sophomore. Alex Stepovich, now serving with the army on Guam, reported his pinning to Alice Feak, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

SAE's Fete Queen, Court at Banquet

Homecoming Queen Joan Dalton and runners-up Pat Butler, Patti Kaser and Gini Watson were dinner guests of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity recently.

Mary Nell King, Marilyn Montgomery and Betty Smith became active members of the Delta Gamma sorority during recent initiation rites, according to Gale Griffith, the sorority publicity chairman.

Barbara Haney, DG field secretary is to be the guest of the local chapter for two weeks, Miss Griffith said. Miss Haney will spend two months visiting the six Delta Gamma chapters in California.

The grade point average of individual members determined the menu for members of Delta Gamma recently. Members with grade point averages of 2.0 or above dined on steak while other sorority members ate chops, hamburger or beans, according to their scholastic achievements.

In charge of the arrangements for the evening were Bob DeLorenzo and Gloria Rugani.
